The College Conference of Illinois & Wisconsin will crown its baseball champion, and automatic NCAA Division III national tournament qualifier, by using a combination of points from the regular season and the conference tournament. The top four teams, by CCIW winning percentage, qualify for the CCIW baseball tournament. The four teams are awarded one championship point for each regular season CCIW victory. In the CCIW tournament, additional points are awarded in the following manner: 3-0 record (5 points); 4-1 or 3-1 record (4 points); 3-2 record (3 points); 2-2 record (2 points); 1-2 record (1 point) and an 0-2 record (0 points). Teams that do not qualify for the tournament do not receive championship points for regular season conference wins. If a tie occurs in total points after the tournament, then the team that finished highest in the tournament will be the conference champion.
