* League leader

Fewest interceptions per passes attempted

% The NCAA began a new "Passing Efficiency" rating system last year, which grades passers by a complicated formula involving: completion percentage, yards per attempted pass, touchdowns per attempt and interceptions. Using this system Elmhurst quarterback Stan Walker would have led the CCIW with a 125.96 rating. The CCIW record would be 164.23, set by Augustana quarterback Ken Anderson in 1968. Anderson is now a quarterback with the Cincinnati Bengals of the NFL.
